“ I am so heartbroken to see this and learn of Cindy's passing. You all were more than clients, you were friends. She was so kind and caring. She loved my pens and as she would run out she would ask me to bring more by, I was so happy to and get to say hello. My heart is in pain for you all. Her family was by far the most important thing to her and she protected it with everything she had. What a cool lady I had to pleasure to know.

“ To a wonder women, wife and mother who will be missed. I didn't get to know you that well but you were the woman that completed my long time friend Mike. He knew he had found his mate when he found you and I know that you went home left him empty and sad until the two of you reunite again one day. Miss you and I know you are enjoying all of God's beauty and being whole again.

“ My deepest condolences to the family.

I'd like to share a story...

Oddly enough, I actually remember being in Cindy's home in West Springfield in 1993 even though I was only 2 years old at the time. She was babysitting me while my parents - Ann and Charlie Lewis - were at the hospital delivering my new baby brother. I remember having fun with her. Your memory lives on Cindy - your friendship with my mom sparked friendship in me. And as fate would have it, I would again find myself in that very same West Springfield home in 2008, this time because one of my childhood friends had moved in and was living there. As soon as I walked in, I said "This is Cindy's house!" and friendship had come full circle.

“ Cindy...The day I met you is a day I'll never forget, Oct 12, 2018, my 1st day of chemo. You were the best thing that happened to me on one of the scariest days of my life. I thank God we met that day because you helped me get through it all. I will miss you my friend. May God hold and comfort you in his living arms!!

“ Cindy, you were my best friend. Through thick and thin & ups and downs you were always there for me. You will always be in my heart and memory. Save me a spot next door. We always said at some point we'd be neighbors

“ Cindy (The woman that stole my heart) I am so blessed I met you in that parking lot that day back in Sept. of 1982. You have given me the pleasure of being your husband. I will miss you till we are back together. Please wait for me. Love you for ever. Hubby.
