

Susan "Sue" G. King

June 9, 1941 - August 4, 2018

Susan G. King (age 77) passed away on August 4, 2018, after a brief, but courageous, struggle with an acute form of leukemia. She was born June 9, 1941 to Melvin and Lillian Goldberg in Chicago, IL. She attended Teaneck High School in New Jersey and also graduated from the University of Rochester in NY.

She was a Senior Information Security Analyst for Mitre Corporation where she worked for 27 years.

Sue was a long-time member of Mensa, loved to hike, travel, cook, and read. She was a member of Temple Rodef Shalom and was involved in numerous community volunteer activities.

She is survived by her two sisters, Marilyn Williams (Jim) and Nancy Faussett (Jon) and by her niece Karen Gower (Dave) and three nephews Michael Dubay, Jack Cook, and Rob Cook (Allison). She is also survived by four great-nephews.

A memorial service will be held on Sunday, August 12, 2018, 9:30 AM at Temple Rodef Shalom, 2100 Westmoreland St, Falls Church, VA 22043.

Donations in Sue's memory may be made to the National Capital Poison Control Center (3201 New Mexico Ave, NW #310, Washington, DC 20016) or Washington Consumers' Checkbook (1625 K St, NW, Washington, DC 20006).

Sue at our Seder 4/5/2004 - August 11, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ Sue was a bright light at Tysons Library Friends sorting groups and book sales. She always brought a steady and cheerful manner and good conversation. We will miss her.

“ I didn' t know Sue well, but I worked with her once a month at Arlington Food Assistance Center with other volunteers from TRS. She was a regular, but I noticed that she hadn't been there the last couple of times. Shocked to hear she was so ill. She was a fine lady. Condolences to her family.

“ I was shocked and so sad to hear of Sues passing. I have known Sue on the hiking trail for the last two years. She was always so welcoming, kind and caring of everyone. I enjoyed talking to her about books and theater and all kinds of stuff. But most of all I will miss her big smile. God bless you kind and gentle servant.

“ Among the reasons why I enjoyed the Wednesday hikes was that I got to talk with Sue. Our foremost favorite topic was books. She told me what books she was reading, and they were mostly non fiction. She was often reading several books at the same time. I always marveled at the very wide scope of her interests. She enjoyed theater and we exchanged impressions of the different plays we saw. While chatting , Sue never stopped being completely alert to the goings on in the hiking group. I was sitting once quiet far from her and was bitten by a flying insect. Before I knew what was happening to me, a salve popped out of her big back pack. It took care of the bite!
Yes, Sue was an unusual member of our hiking group. Hard to believe that she won't be with us anymore in person. I'll never forget her.

“ To Sue's family and friends,

I too, was a PATC hiking friend of Sue's. Gary couldnt have put it better than he did: "We have lost a wise leader, a great friend, and a pleasant hiking companion. 10:15 on Wednesday mornings won't be the same." To that I would only add that Sue was unfailingly gracious and kind, particularly to new hikers. I was one of those, not so long ago, and Sue was the one who made me feel welcome, introduced me to others and provided hiking tips. A generous soul. Much sympathy to all of you regarding this too-early loss.

Most certainly, Sue was there at every hike! A dedicated person to those of us that loved the weekly "PATC Wednesday EASY HIKERS" by her constant obtaining leaders for the outings. Loved her Smile. Rest in Peace Sue!

“ My memories of Sue will always include the many miles we hiked with the Gordon Lilly Memorial Marching and Chowder Society at Mitre. And the wild mushrooms we hunted together. At times we worked on the same team at Mitre. Sue was always the 'go to' person for the best places to eat when we traveled to other cities. Missing her.....Tom Teeples

“ Sue’s sense of utilitarian obligation was most admirable. She frequently did more than her "fair share."

“ Sue was a gentle, wise, generous spirit who I always enjoyed seeing. We learned Hebrew together, tutored our refugee family with English and celebrated their success over special lunches with them. Her love of nature and hiking was well known. She will be missed by many.

“ Sue made decisions thoughtfully, considering all the pros and cons, and chose the path that made the most sense. She was a brave lady, knew what she wanted from life, and chose to live life on her own terms. She gave generously of herself and touched many peoples' lives. I feel truly lucky to have had her steady friendship in my life for so long, having known her since the early 90's at Mitre.
