

Cheryl Leigh Walter

September 5, 1946 - June 6, 2018

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Cheryl Leigh Walter

October 27, 2022 at 09:45 PM

“ Cheryl's family: I'm so sorry for your loss. I went through a similar situation and I was very helped by the hope that I found in the Bible in John 5:28, which says, "Do not amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out". I am sending you a link with more information on this hope.

jw.org/finder?pub=w14&issue=20140101&wtlocale=E&srcid=share

June 23, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ May the family be comforted by the promise of the resurrection by Christ Jesus at John 5:28,29; Revelation 21:4. Please accept my condolences.

June 12, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ Cheryl was my friend from elementary school through high school. As kids we shared many, many hours at her house reading her brother's comic books, laughing at the stories, and making up our own. In high school, the one year that we shared the same school, I watched her fall in love and eventually marry. I was so happy for her. We lost contact for quite some time but reconnected recently to my complete joy. No words can put adequately how much I loved Cheryl and how happy, deeply happy I was that she found me again. And no words can tell you how my heart aches now. I love you, my friend. And always will.

June 11, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ My dearest, lifelong friend....I shall miss your jovial laugh, your frank opinion, your ability to get in trouble with me in our youth, but most of all I will miss the way you “got me”, and loved me.... I’m aching inside, with the thought of the loss of such a steadfast, truthful, gal pal. We have so many funny things in our life that only you and I could share, and laugh until we cried. Sneaking around Arlington Cemetary, witnessing a late evening trip of Bobby Kennedy’s wife, and many kids, visiting his fresh gravesite with yellow roses (seen from an guard’s shack). Hanging around Ft Belvoir, meeting fellas, going to the maaaany movies, giggling in my mom’s basement apartment where you lived for so many years. Sharing my 4 children and their growing up years, and antics. Standing by me at my wedding to Tom. Visiting you on Virginia Hills Avenue, EVERY time I came home from my life living in other states, Hawaii, North Carolina, Texas! I will always treasure our true, happy, long, fun, friendship, in my heart, honey..... I miss your beautiful eyes, sweet smile, dimples, and your sometimes/shy ways. Will miss your opinionated outspokenness, the joy you had on your face, when speaking of your mother, father, siblings and their children. I’m glad you’re not struggling anymore....with anything....praying you are by the side of your mom, dad, and precious Liddy, and pal Maryanne....all praising The Lord.... I miss you my precious friend..... 😔😔

June 11, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ That’s a sweet tribute to Cheryl, Lynn. She was quite a pal, for sure.

June 11, 2018 at 12:00 AM