“ I met this precious wee force of nature at our senior luncheon at church. I thought she made the best banana pudding I ever remember tasting. I oft times wonder how so much energy could be packed into such a tiny package. The 1st time I saw the downstairs of her home I was astonished; CHRISTmas from one end to the other and all just so very well kept. I felt like a child in a candy store. She was caring and sharing and kind and would not hesitate to give you gifts. We were looking forward to spending more time together. This was such a shock to me but not to GOD. She is up there with the best of the crafters. I will miss her and her kind heart and her scrumptious banana pudding. Knit us a rainbow miss Chris and send it our way.

“ Christine visited us 2/3 times a year in West Virginia stayed with us week each time. Our last visit was in October at the age of 84 drove here. We always worried about her driving by herself but she was strong willed and an independent character. She always brought gifts and her crochet supplies She loved to crocheted to calm her nerves she'd say. She gifted us with crocheted pillows and lap blankets. We'll miss her.
