“ Dear Maria & Chris, please accept our deepest and most sincere condolences in the loss of George. Alex & Tim seem to always enjoy when George was at the shop. They would come home after work and tell me about the days activities. They were always very colorful when they would describe the time spent in your shop when George was there. As you know our son Tim Jr. passed away earlier this year and we just found out by reading his history that he and our son were born on the same day. We understand and share your grief that no parent should have to endure. If there is anything that we can do to help you through this time, please don't hesitate to ask, even if only to talk. It has been a privilege to know George and have him in our lives. You are in our prayers to find peace, understanding and comfort. Your friends, Mary & Tim (ODPC)

“Don't get attached to him. He won't make it to his first birthday". That is what I was told when I signed on to be a home nurse for 9 mos old Georgie. Every birthday was a mile stone he was not supposed to meet. You showed them Georgie! God Bless you.

“ I was shocked and surprised to hear the news. I'm very sorry I can't be there in person, but my thoughts and prayers are with all of you. I'll always remember Little Georgie. I know he's in good hands with his grandmother now and that she will always take care of him. I will pray for him forever. May God rest his soul. Love,

“ I remember every time I was going to see George I would be filled with anticipation over what was going to come out of his mouth. His honesty could be brutal at times, but he was always right. He meant what he said and said what he meant. In today's world of walking on eggshells, watching what you say, not hurting feelings, every kid winning, being politically correct..... George stood true and strong. And everyone loved and respected him for it! What if we were all more like Georgie? What if we all were honest, with each other and ourselves? But like Georgie, we would all have to be motivated by good, have compassion and a kind heart! I will always remember his smile, his strength and courage, love of family, but most of all, his honesty. God bless you Georgie and please let everyone up there know we think of them and miss them every day!!
