“ Jerry was my supervisor at Delta at Washington National Airport in 1972. He was one of the smartest people in the airline industry. He focused on safety and he knew his job. I went on to totally flunk the eyesight exam for pilot training in the US Air Force and eventually wound up becoming a news anchor on local stations and networks in Washington DC. I always remembered his advice, it helped me focus on news coverage of the airline industry.

“ Jerry was our neighbor. We moved across the street from the Wareham's in 2011 and we're immediately met with kindness by the entire family. Jerry was full of great stories about his days in the military, days in Hawaii and beyond. My husband and I both loved talking to him, loved hearing his laughter. He will be missed and never forgotten.

“ Gerald and I attended 12 years of school together graduating in 1956. We have been able to keep in touch through his sister Janet , a good friend.
The last we visited was a few years back but he was his usual amiable self although his health was not the greatest.
Gary and I send our condolences to the family.

“Gerald is my first cousin. Our fathers were brothers. I have too many memories to post here. However, as the youngest of our generation of cousins, I was always treated with care and love. He will be greatly missed by his family (all of it) and friends.
