

H. Steven Dolan

September 18, 1954 - June 7, 2012

Beloved son of Hugh and Jeanne . He is also survived by a sister, Marianne Konka; two brothers, Kevin and James Dolan; six nephews and five nieces. A longtime resident of Northern Virginia, he was a graduate of Bishop Ireton High School. Recently retired after a career with the Federal Government. Steve Volunteered as a docent with the Arlington Historical Society and contributed to their magazine. His knowledge and abilities spanned many fields. His enthusiasm was infectious and his willingness to help was unbounded.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Agudas Achim Congregation, The Golden Lakes Temple of West Palm Beach Florida, and the ASPCA.

“ Always the smartest guy in the room, Steve never let his ego overrule his empathy toward others. He was filled with compassion and empathy toward those less fortunate, and was an inspiration to me and many others. He always worked "behind the scene", quietly making other peoples lives better with his influence, while never asking or expecting anything in return. Steve, you will be missed dearly.

“ Steve was always so kind and friendly to me and my family. When I was young I thought he was so cool with this van. My heart goes out to you, Judge Dolan, Mrs. Dolan, Kevin, Jim and MaryAnn. I am so sorry for your loss. My family and I are praying for you all. With love, Heather (Meyer) Mulloy and family

“ Steve has been a good friend for more than 50 years. Other than my own parents, I've never had to say a harder goodbye; probably because when my parents passed, Steve was there for me. At least I feel certain that when I do pass on, he'll be there to hand me a cold one. Grok on, water-brother.

“ I have thought of him so many times over the past few years. He was a great man with a great mind and heart that gave without asking. I will mention you to others as a person that we should all aspire to be like. I miss you my friend.

“ Hello: I lived at the end of May Boulevard in Rose Hill. Hugh lived around the corner. I was on the bus to St. Louis Grade School every day with Hugh. I remember one day we got off the bus & Hugh's father wanted to take a picture of the 2 of us together. I'm sure I have a copy of that picture somewhere. I remember we looked like 2 little sweeties - even though I know we were trouble-makers! I was just thinking about Hugh a week or so ago, telling someone about my early school days. I don't believe in coincidences - I know I was remembering him so I would be prepared to hear about his passing. I'm sorry for your loss, and my thoughts & best wishes are with you. Warmly, Paula

Steve was a great person and a wonderful friend. So intelligent and so funny. I still quote him on a regular basis "Incorrigible punter. Do not incorrige." "God is an iron". "She is as beautiful as she is intelligent."

We used to have video nights at his apartment at Courthouse Road. He always had good ideas for movies, like Under Milk Wood and we both loved the Lion, in Winter.

He is missed.

“ I still can't believe he's gone. Steve was always there! If I needed to know more than was necessary about anything - from fixing a faucet to the current political climate - Steve was my go-to guy. For a cynical curmudgeon, Steve was the most generous person I've ever known. I miss him so much.

So true. He was so knowledgeable. In 1985 I had dinner at his parents house when he was building his bookcases. He hit a knothole and we ended up going to Fairfax Emergency with his hand in a bag of ice. His father was in the exam room. And reported, "the son must be feeling better. He's telling the doctor what to do."

“ I have many fond memories of the conversations we had together.
