“ I had the pleasure of working with Jim on an 18-month project, where Jim's knowledge, tact and diplomacy were always on target. I was sorry to hear about Jim's passing after only seeing him a few months prior. He kept his chin up and said to me once while walking in the parking lot to our cars: "I'll beat this thing!" I admired his courage and his willingness to share his plight. I most likely would have crawled up in a cave. What a guy, and although I didn't know his family, I'm sure he was one hell of a dad, husband, brother and role model. Rest in peace Jim and my thoughts are with his family.

“ I worked with Jim for four years. He was everything you want in a colleague and more....he was a good friend. When we struggled to get the job done he always maintained an even demeanor. I will miss my personal conversations with him, talking about his book collecting, and riding the Segway. What more can you say about someone than you have the best memories - and that is what I will always have of Jim.

“ May God Bless you and your families at this time. Jim was a great person. If you were lucky to have known him you had a friend for life. I grew up with Jim and his sisters. We went to the same school and church. Jim had a great sense of humor. I was very proud of him as he went up through the ranks in the Air Force. Everyone that knew Jim, knew he would go far in the service. He made all of us back home in Potomac, Illinois very proud. We all feel your loss We have lost a wonderful man.

“ Mrs. Cade and family, Jim is remembered for his kind, considerate, and peaceful personality. There were times, I and very likely others, were held steady by Jim as we navigated some rough moments. He was a calm in the storm.

“ Dear Joan, Robert, and Joseph,
I worked with Jim on the RCAS project at Boeing Info Services from 1997 to 1999, and my wife, Patti, was your next-door neighbor for many years on Vernon's Oak. Jim and I also traveled to Des Moines, Iowa, on RCAS business a few times. We often worked long hours for some prickly bosses, and Jim never lost his sense of perspective or his sense of humor. He was generous with his knowledge and had a quiet sense of confidence that was contagious and oh, so helpful during the work-a-day challenges. Patti considered Jim and the rest of you good friends and neighbors during some of her most trying times as a single mom in the neighborhood. We will miss Jim, and our prayers and thoughts are with all of you. - Pat Trate and Patti Stevens
