“ I worked with Jay off and on since 2001 and knew of him from before that. I knew him as a quintessential professional. He was always thorough and thoughtful. He bristled at rules that made no sense and wasn't shy to let you know, but always in a calm, reasoned way. I was his supervisor when he retired from civil service, and it was clear that ship design was his passion.....so I was not surprised when he went to work for CSRA after leaving civil service. We will miss you Jay.

“ I cross paths with Jay over the many years during his time in the Government and in private industry. Jay was truly professional and thoughtful in his work and willing to share his knowledge with many of his colleagues including me. I am grateful to have known Jay and I am saddened to learn of his passing. Please accept my deepest condolences for the passing of a good man.

“ Xander wants everyone to know how much fun he's had with Pop-Pop, teaching him new games and technologies. They played a wide variety of board games, card games, and video games over the years.

“ Here is a memory from Zoey. We took a sushi-making class in 2018 while on our Thanksgiving cruise. That was our last big vacation with Pop-Pop, and we will miss him on our future adventures. Wishing he could still be here with us.

“ Jay is going to be so missed. His quiet and kind presence was always felt whenever he was in a room. Jay always made you feel welcome and was such a generous soul. He would do anything for you. Our family treasures the fond memories of holidays together- specifically Passover Seders and Hanukkah gatherings. This photo is from Jay’s 79th birthday in Jan 2019. We hope all his wishes can come true in heaven now. Our hearts are heavy, but thankful Jay is no longer suffering. ❤️🙏
