“ Pap, so many words were left unspoken. I cannot begin to express my regret that I waited an extra day to call you. I want you to know that one day at a time I am getting better, I am a work in progress, I have so many broken pieces to pickup, so many mistakes to let go. Most importantly I am learning to love myself, and how to live all over again. I thank you for all the lessons I've learned from you. I apologize for any and all things I've done to disappoint you. I hope that one day I make you proud. RIP Pap

“Please take comfort in memories you have of Jim and the promise at Isaiah 33:24 which says there will come a time when NO ONE will say, “I am sick.” In fact “God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away,” says Revelation 21:4. You can learn more about this at jw.org. I send my deepest sympathy to family.
