“ I didn't know John as well as everyone, But I did speak to him from time to time over the years. The last thing he said that I have saved on my Snapchat was “his daredevil ass!” Because my lizard was jumping everywhere. Loll John was always really nice and respectful to me. One of the coolest cats I've ever met! I wish I knew him better and wish he was still here on earth with his family and friends I can see how much you were loved John. Wish there was more I could say but I still am in shock about it all. how I've known John, he was a positive human being never saw a mean or negative bone in his body. Rest easy John will miss our chats much love! ❤️ my condolences for the Corbin family. I hope you guys are doing well. Take much care. -maria I.

“ John, we go all the way back from middle school and high school to beyond. The things you taught me and the way you lived life are forever lasting. You never changed yourself for anyone or anything and always stayed true, positive, and never looked down on anyone no matter who they were and I will always respect that. I still can't seem to completely comprehend this. Fun memories have been rushing through my mind with all the good times we've had. Just a couple of awesome things: You introduced me to Chipotle's secret sauce in high school that I still get every time to this day. You showed me the shortest short cut from Ireton to the Mount Vernon area that still amazes me. In carpool, while everyone else was tired and antisocial at 6:20 every morning, you were the only one to have an endless smile on your face and starting conversations with one of the parents or us; just being excited for a new day. You were one of the most genuine and kind souls I've ever met. You truly lived every moment to the fullest and if more people lived like you, the world would be a much better place.

Candle of Peace - April 19, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ I remember John and my nephews (around 6-7 years old) playing hide and seek in my back yard. No one could find John and he wasn't giving up his great hiding spot. All of a sudden I saw this little head peek out of a window in our shed. I don't know how he got his tall body inside there to hide because it was so packed with garden stuff. We cracked up, but, had to help him get out safely.

His passing has left a hole in my heart. Kim, John, Carley, and Kay - I know this is such a hard time for you. Hopefully, the good memories will help you through this dark time. Love, Letha

“ John will be dearly missed by our entire family. He was so positive and uplifting and always had the right words to provide encouragement and hope for his peers. He has a special place in our heart and was a dear friend to my daughter Megan and my son Kevin. During his short time here on Earth, he made his mark - he will never ever be forgotten. Heaven just got a beautiful angel. Please accept our deepest condolences to his sweet family. Fly High John!

“ Kim, John, Carly and Kay, I mostly remember John from his earlier school ages. He was smart and funny, and was always running around at Corbin events. I also remember his love of football in his early HS years, adventures of summers spent in NJ with family, and a real love of music. I know of your unrelenting love of John and hope the good memories will sustain you in the years to come. Our sympathy to you, family and friends. Love, Debby and Ray

“ I'll always remember John as the most polite kid I've ever met. I got to meet him through working with his dad. I used to hear all about his football and basketball games from his proud dad. Some of the guys at work were just talking about the tall skinny kid who used to help us clean up after some campus events. I will always have great memories of John. My wife still has a picture on her desk of us all at a Maryland football game. John, you will always be missed and loved by us.

“ I met John when we were in kindergarten at St. Louis. Hearing this news has affected me in ways I've never felt before. I have so many amazing memories with John. One thing I always loved about him was his passion for music and the types of music he loved so much. The first time I ever heard Incubus (who to this day remains one of my favorite bands) was with him in his mom's minivan during one of the thousands of times we were transported from my house to his house and vice versa. John also had such a deep passion for fishing, I have so many memories of fishing with John. I think he's to this day one of the main reasons I myself have always had a passion for fishing. Now that I'm thinking about it, there are too many things to list that John and I enjoyed doing together. Skateboarding, fishing, playing the guitar, and most of all being adventurous and in the moment. I love you John and you will be missed by SO many people and the memories I have with you will NEVER be forgotten.
Love, Ian
