“Where to start memory’s?? JP was certainly a very special kind of friend, one of those friends you spend your boyhood growing up with, the kind you could always count on to race down Heming Ave with on a bike or pull off harmless boyhood shenanigans with! A friend with a big heart! I always enjoyed being with JP. Ms Dwyer always reminded me of my mother, her door was always opened and she would always feed us if we asked and her kindness was passed on to JP! So thank you Ms Dwyer, for raising a good friend and all you did for us! Like I mentioned earlier, JP was a special kind of friend, one of those friends that you could shoot the bull with and talk to even after not talking for years. I had the opportunity to see JP a few times over the past few years! I’ll always remember popping into the printing joint because I was in the area. We picked up our friendship like we saw each other a week before, even though it’d been years! He gave me the “grand” tour and we were on our separate ways. We messaged back and forth a few times after that and tried to stay in touch when we could. He was that kind of friend! Even though the years pulled us apart and our paths lead down separate paths we could always pick up our last conversation! He was definitely a light that kept shining through the worst of times, his goodness and kindness rubbed off on everyone he met and I don’t ever recall him being mean to anyone. I had the privilege of catching up with Kelly a few months ago and I was happy to see how JP’s light had shined into Kelly’s life! He will always be with each and everyone of the life’s he came into contact with, I hope and pray that the entire Dwyer family takes comfort into knowing that JP, though not here with us physically, will always be with us in our heart and our memories. My deepest condolences go out to the family and I pray for your comfort during these tough days ahead! We love you all!

“ I grew up across the street from JP and have so many great memories of playing baseball in the cul de sac, riding bikes, catching fireflies and crickets by the creek, and walking to the kindergarten bus together. I remember building a “cricket palace” out of wood blocks and handful of nails, and having races with all the other neighborhood kids. I am heartbroken for his family and send my condolences.
