“ You are my best friend, my comforter, my joy, my fierce supporter, and my role model. You showed us unconditional love, taught us the value of community and service, encouraged us to be creative, to worship and appreciate a higher power, to laugh even at the worst of times, to know we could accomplish anything we set our minds to, and, above all, to be kind. I miss your laugh and your gentle advice and I miss calling you everyday at 4 o'clock. We are blessed, all of us, to have you and dad as our parents. I am grateful that you are at peace, but I sure do miss you.

This picture was taken of mom on Valentine's Day this year = so beautiful. -

“ She may not have given birth to me, but she was my Mom and she loved me as one of her own. Her and Dad demonstrated to all of us kids what it means to truly love someone. She showed it her relationship with Dad and with each and every one of her kids. Mom. you leave an incredible vacuum , will be greatly missed and I love you.

“ I love you Mom. You taught all of us to be kind, to be thoughtful and to roll with the punches and laugh because if you can't laugh, "That's no fun." I will miss you forever.
