

Kate S. Krupen

March 3, 1917 - December 24, 2012

Kate S. Krupen

On Monday, December 24, 2012 of Silver Spring, MD.

Beloved wife of the late Philip Krupen; mother of Bobbi Goldblum (Marty) and Elaine Haas (Fred); grandmother of Larry Goldblum. Funeral service at Jefferson Funeral Chapel, 5755 Castlewellan Dr. Alexandria, VA on Thursday, December 27, 2012 at 11:30 AM. Interment King David Memorial Gardens. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to a charity of one's choice.

Tribute Wall

“ Kate S. Krupen

October 27, 2022 at 09:45 PM

“ Sometimes, Katie and I would talk about some of the problems I was having in my personal life. She would listen quietly with patience-sometimes I thought she couldn't hear me, then she would say something like, "Yoy're such a push-over. You let people take advantage of you easily." It was stinging insight, but always on target. One of the things that I always admired about her was that she listened intently even when you thought she wasn't, and that she had a keen mind and the ability to put her finger on the roort of the problem the first time, and usually was completly right. I love and miss her very much. Larry

January 07, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ So sorry to hear that Kate passed. I miss her very much. She was one of the most remarkable people I've ever met.

January 07, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ Kate was such a remarkable friend and person. In some ways, she was a second mother to me. Sorry I wasn't there when she passed. I miss her very much. She was a first class lady and friend in every way! Larry

January 07, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ I want to send my prayers to you. Rev. 21:4 tells of a grand future with our loved ones again very soon. May god be with you.

December 26, 2012 at 12:00 AM

“ Aunt Katie was one of the kindest and most wonderful people to know. Everyone on my father's side of the family who remembers her does so with fond memories. My heart goes out to Bobbi, Elaine, Larry, Fred and Marty and to all of her many nieces and nephews who love her dearly. Aunt Katie may be physically gone, but she will live on in our hearts. Karey Spirit

December 26, 2012 at 12:00 AM