“ I never had the pleasure of knowing Kyle, but my good friend Marni is his Aunt. My thoughts & prayers are with you & your family. This is a little poem that helped me when I was struggling with the death of my cousin. I know nothing compares to losing a son, but just know that he is in a better place & ALWAYS in your hearts. My deepest condolences. "When you miss him, we're with you in spirit, wondering how you feel, hoping you're coping, and getting a little better each day. We understand. We care. When you're grieving, we're beside you, in our hearts, in our thoughts, we're sending you sympathy, encouragement, affection, and strength to carry on with life. He would want it that way."

“ To the Sullivan Family, Words are difficult to come by at a time like this but with the grace of God we know that Kyle is not engulfed by death but instead it is a horizon that he has passed beyond. Although he is out of your view, he is alive in God's presence. There is much healing in the shedding of tears so we weep together. We will take it one day at a time as the sun shines on only one day at a time, so God promises enough strength for one day at a time. God Bless You ALL
