“ *Mel Rosenblatt was truly one of the smartest, kindest and most interesting business leaders I have had the pleasure to know. I am saddened to learn of his passing, but I know that his legacy is the hundreds, if not thousands, of employees, associates and friends who lives are enriched because they knew Mel.
G-d rest his soul.

“ Mel and Sandy were the very first people we met at HiddenBrooke, when they stopped their car to offer us help as we stood in the street with our realtor in 2013 looking very much puzzled about what to do next. We quickly understood how serious they were about helping-- in rapid succession they gave us their phone number and invited us to lunch. We've not seen Mel often in recent years, but even as his health obviously declined he always managed to smile, and let his characteristic good humor and kind nature shine through. It turned out that he was also a very brave man. Our best wishes to Sandy and their family as they make a future without him.

“ Mel was among the first people we met at HiddenBrooke. He had the qualities of a leader, and our community was so fortunate that he chose to lead us as the first president of the Board of Directors. Aside from his leadership qualities, Mel (and Sandy) were known for their selflessness, generosity, and courage through the years. Mel was a very kind and ethical person. It is with a heavy heart, that we will miss our very dear friend. We send our love and sympathy to Sandy and the Rosenblatt family. Joan and Henry Botuck

“ Mel Rosenblatt, you were truly “One of a Kind” Mel, you are constantly in the back of my mind whenever I make a decision about anything. I “grew up” under your tutelage. You were never too busy to lend an ear to me for any reason. I so appreciated that, more than you know. For me, selfless.
Sandy, Sheryl, Steve and Scott, please accept my heartfelt condolences. I loved Mel. Mel, Rest In Peace.
