

Michael Duane Wallace

July 24, 1953 - February 18, 2012

Michael Duane Wallace

Born in Utah on July 24, 1953 departed on February 18, 2012 and resided in Alexandria, VA.

Survived and loved by his mother and father Lola and Ben Murdock, his brothers and sisters, Timothy, David, Penny and Shelly and his extended family and friends. This photo of Michael at Zion National Park in Utah depicts his love for the outdoors and the West. Mike was outgoing and friendly to all people. They, in return, showed him much love and admiration. He liked to write poetry. He loved to visit his Native American relatives in Utah and he always talked about his visit there and his desire to return. Although he will be missed in this life, he is now on a new journey with his Heavenly Father/Creator. May his spirit fly free in peace.

“ My brother Ill see you again in heaven. I loved you from the bottom of my heart. As children you & Tim were my older brothers and I always wanted to please you. I remember saving allowances and you guys always borrowing it. I was the treasurer-never any questions. I remember doing your chores because you made a contest on who could finish first, me loading the dishwasher or you learning a song on the organ. I admired you greatly and was proud you were my brother. 58 years on earth and youve vanished but never from my heart or memories. My peace comes from knowing family is forever both here on earth and on the other side. I dont remember ever seeing you angry and Ill miss your term of endearment-Penny Weaser. You had a precious loving soul that touched many lives. I believe I was special in your heart and I truly believe you made everyone who loved you feel the same way. To all who read this, my deepest gratitude to you for loving my brother in his life. In Jesus Christs name Amen
