“ Daddy, You taught me how to love. You claimed to be a rare man. That you were!! You were humorous and love to joke. You would look at a persons face and laugh. You saw the humor in everything. Your favorite dog was Cindy. Movies, Carnivals, icecream shops and healthfood stores were your favorite places. You taught me to love and respect Gods Earth. To stop and smell the roses along lifes way. You tried not to hurt peoples feelings. You were child like and taught everyone is ok to act goofy. You told me on the day you went with the Lord, that you were proud of me and I was a chip off the old block!! You Loved The Lord and had many questions about GOD. I loved our talks and enjoyed answering your questions about The Bible. You know all the answers now. Sing and dance with the Angels daddy!! Give praises to our Eternal King! I miss and love you daddy!!

“ My fun and loving Uncle Norris. I have so many fun memories of the times together. Like one Christmas you came to my house. You were famous for getting lost. Always on the phone with you lost. I live in the country and you were trying to tell me where you were. You said "I see cows"! Of course we had no idea where you were, cows all over the country. I remember you taking me to the movies a lot one time smoking in the theatre and telling me to watch fo usher. Throwing popcorn too! Those Pinto's! Taxi cab driver stories. Now you have your answer where ghosts get their ghost clothes!! Enjoyed you taking us to Gifford's. @owders for weight gain. How to hit a punching bag. Teaching me how to stand in front of a shutting elevator to make it re-open in OC! Thanks for keeping the round candy jar full! Uncle Norris, I miss you so much. You were a great uncle and choose to be in my life because you wanted to, not because you had to. I love you and thank you for being you! Your niece Jennifer “ Please read part 1 first: You were quick to tell everyone how "odd" you were. I even took you to a psychiatrist who only told me that there was nothing he could do for you. I learned to laugh at your "oddities" like the sea salt you had to take to restaurants and "please don't put any seasoning on my food." Then you would tell everyone in the restaurant you would be right back, since you had to check on your best friend "Timber." I know you loved moving to the beach and more than anything loved the ocean and you absolutely loved the 6 weeks you lived on the ocean and as you would say "I'm living like a King. You are an awesome uncle, I will truly miss you, and will always have great memories of our fun times together, but most importantly please don't spook me out, I don't need any visits!

“ Part 1: Norris, so many cherished memories of all the fun times we had together. Growing up I remember how wild a driver you were! Back then you were restless, but talk about fun! The best times growing up were the "old time" carnivals you took me too. I guess your love of carnivals is from your own Uncle Norris. I know you remembered him greatly and you talked of your love for him. I love the sailor outfit he bought you and cherish the photo of you in the outfit.
