“ My family extends their sympathies to you all. I loved the time that I spent with Pat! She shared stories with me, and always made me feel like I was part of the family. She also explained her cooking secrets...."before that I was burning water". This was a special gift, and was deeply appreciated.

“ Our hearts go out to all of you, we wish we could be there with you all to share our memories and yours , to share our grief and yours , the one thing i wish is that we could have come down more often and spent more time with mom and the rest of the family. But we have good memories of the visits we had and conversations on the phone, and videos and pictures. And for that we are grateful. She was a good woman to a lot of people and its nice to read some of the things people have said about her. She will be missed.

“ I sit here contemplating on what to say about grandma snow...I do have some memories of her and the snow family that I will always have with me, and for that I m tremendously blessed and grateful. I did not know grandma snow like everyone else in virginia did, but I did know some things and those things will stay with me always. I am very happy that grandma had my father because without him there would be no 'me'. There are many things that I would like to say to show my love to the family and to let them know that no matter the distance I do very much think about them all, all my uncles and aunts and cousins I may not talk to you or see you everyday but I am really blessed to have you all...I wouldnt have any of you if it were not for grandma, and for that grandma I thank you...I remember when we (my family, father mother and sisters) came to virginia to see everyone and I will always remember the house with the porch which grandpa and grandma would watch wheel of fortune on, I remember the backyard with the berries we picked, the trees, and the crazy squirrels and beautiful hummingbirds, and the other animals...these memories stick with me and always have. Is there anything right to say about a loved one who has finished their journey? I am not sure but I will miss her, I know many are and will have a hard time dealing with this loss and for that my thoughts and prayers go out to each and everyone of you...I am sad, thst she is gone but I also smile knowing her purpose and her journey is accomplished, do I know what they were, not exactly, I do know a few things though and those few things I would never have known if it wssnt for her bringing my father and my uncles and aunts into this world...I know this is a lot of words I am typing but I just dont seem to want to stop because I feel that she is still living on in all of us, and she will always be remembered...I see her when I close my eyes, sometimes she seems so close...maybe she isnt that far away, maybe heaven is closer than we think...I m not sure...I guess one day we will see for ourselves...until then grandma rest in peace and tell grandpa I said hello and we all miss you very much...to my uncles and aunts I hope one day we can all talk and see each other more and realize that family is really very beautiful no matter how hard it may be...I love you all...Grandma I pray one day you can see and be proud of us all...God bless and love to all...

You can be proud to have been brought up by such a wonderful person. I know she had to of been "WONDERFUL" because of the type of son she has raised from birth. “ I loved Mrs. Snow. She was always so good to me. When she saw me wearing a pin on my shirt, she went home and gathered some of hers to give to me. I still treasure them. She always made me feel like I was a family member from the first time I met her. I remember our "Gamble family" vacations and how Mrs. Snow would send her magazines after she had read them. We would have a big bag of them to go through.....What will we do now without her magazines, her calendars, and most of all her in our lives. Pat Snow it was a pleasure being apart of your life and I will truly miss you.

“ I am Pat's brother-in-law, Charles, and I want to express sympathy from me and my wife Dora to all the family. We regret that we will not be able to come for the visitation and funeral, but please know that we will be thinking of you and keeping you in our prayers. I will always remember the summer I spent with Pat and Howard (1951). I saw my first TV program at their house and had many other wonderful experiences. Pat was so good to me and I have always loved her dearly. May God who calls our Loved ones home bless and keep each of you in His care. Love, Charles
