“ Linda, Rex, Elizabeth, and Family, Many pleasant memories will linger of Rex's wholehearted love for things that are eternal. As I think of his life, it causes me to desire to be more wholehearted. I feel the best way to be a help to the next generation is to be wholehearted in our service to God. Hymn 322, says it much better than I can. I hope some day to see each of you again. We will think of you in coming days as well and the comfort of God's spirit will sustain you. Raymond Miller

“ Linda, Rex, Elizabeth and family, My condolences go out to you at this sad time - I have followed the events of these past weeks and was very saddened when I heard the news of Rex's passing. Even though my own family has moved far away over these past years I have fond memories of my uncle Rex and as we always referred to the boys "John and Rex" and how as children we would arrive at the farm for our summer stays, and how we looked up to our uncles who played with us, teased us unmercifully and amused us, they would build us a playground there on the farm, swings, tetter totters, and the like along with the time we spent doing chores, these are a part of my best memories in life, Rex being not that much older I remember his high school graduation and how he came to live with us for a time back in Ontario, a time in his life when he was still just looking around trying to decide what he would do in life, I remember how I would tell my friends later that I had these 2 uncles that could fly and they had an airplane and that was prety amazing to me and how I even wish ed that I could do that too ! the years these boys spent in Vietnam also touched us all, and finally I would like to comment on how these 2 New Bruswick boys found such beautiful people as life mates, so it is hard for us all to understand HIs plan, we have some time here on earth and I think Rex made the most of his time and he has left behind for now a wonderfull family - my thoughts and prayers go out to you all, may your faith be strong as you go through these next days and weeks - a proud nephew,
Murray
