“ I knew Robin (we all called her Petefish) when I was a supervisor at United Way. When I left Virginia to move to California I put a five page recommendation for her to have my job in my supervisor's mailbox. She got the job. She was the most positive, infectious lady I ever met. We had a great time together. We worked very long hours. One evening in particular we sat on the ledge of the building outside our office, dangling our feet (can't remember if it was the 3rd or 4th floor), eating tuna fish and cottage cheese, laughing at the poor souls that were unable to find happiness and joy in life. I searched for her name about five minutes ago on Facebook. I wanted to reconnect with her. I am stunned. Without knowing it, Robin helped me to not be so bashful and introverted. Thank you my friend.

I never met Robin but have heard of her over the years since I know her brother, Paul, very well. He was obviously very close to Robin and cherished their sibling relationship. She was obviously a lovely lady. My sympathy and support are sent to Paul, family and friends.

“ Robin was passionate about so many things, most of all life. She loved and appreciated all the little day-to-day things. Often when we were talking on the phone, she would remark happily on a beautiful bird or butterfly she saw. She always saw the best in everyone. She was the bravest, strongest woman we know, and a shining example of what a true indomitable spirit is. We will miss her smile, and her sense of humor, which never left her even as she suffered with the various torturous treatments that we all hoped would save her life. RIP, Rockin' Robin...you'll always be in our hearts.
