“ *My dear Uncle Bill,
How do I begin to put into words the emotions, the love and our quite heated debates. The one thing you showed me even to the end was to love above all else. You sir , have a humble servants heart, even if you did not want people to say it or see it. You just could not keep it hidden. Your kindness has helped so many and your love leaves a legacy most of us dream of. No one should ever doubt though your desire to win and your competitive streak runs deep. So with this said.....play ball with the angels, slide into heaven and you have scored the biggest victory ever. See you soon.....I hope. Put in a good word for me. The world may have just lost one of their best players but the heavens just stacked their team.
Love,
Just me.*

“ My condolences to the family of William Lynch. Know that the God of comfort will help you endure adversities, including the loss of dear loved ones. (2 Cor. 1:3, 4). Our loving Heavenly Father has given us a wonderful guarantee that we can see our loved ones again by means of a resurrection to an earth transformed into a beautiful paradise (Psalm 37:11, 19).
